

Köpenick wine festival

As every year, there will be an event for all wine lovers, with music and lovely atmosphere. The 13th Köpenick wine festival ("Köpenicker Winzerfrühling") takes place on the Schlossinsel and Luisenhain in the old town of Köpenick. Treptow-Köpenick is one of twelve districts of the city of Berlin. 35 wine growers mainly from Germany take part in this event. Among them are wineries from our sister cities in Austria, Serbia and Slovenia. It was a great pleasure to welcome a winery from Albinea this year!

Friday, 21th of April 2017 02 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Saturday, 22th of April 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Sunday, 23th of April 12 a.m. to 09 p.m.

We provide you a stand and a pagoda for free. It is recommended to bring along:

- material for decorating the stand (like poster, banner etc.)
- promotion material about your products and some tourist information material
- wine and price list
- mobile freezer, cable, wine cooler and corkscrewers
- mobile dish washer (unfortunately there is no central service for cleaning the glasses available and that's why most of the wineries bring along their own dish washer)
- glasses (normally each visitor of the festival can by a glas and use it all day long but from experience it is better to have enough glasses at each stand)
- if you have: Aceto balsamico and parmigiano or any other delicacy from your region

Accommodation:

We provide you accommodation for free during the duration of the festival. You can stay in a guest house which is usually used by sports men/women. There are two- or three-bed rooms, showers are on the floor. Towels, bed linen and breakfast are provided there.

More information about the festival can you find here: <http://www.winzerfest-köpenick.de/>
